MRS. ROSENTHAL SWEARS AGAINST BECKER

OUR WET HAS EASY VICTORY

BULLETINS.
MEXICO CITY, May 18.—Reports are current here that President Huerta has notified his delegates to the mediation conference that he is willing to resign if his retirement will mean peace in Mexico.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Reports that President Huerta has offered to resign and has so notified us are absolutely untrue," was the statement made today by Louis Rodriguez, one of the American delegates to the mediation conference.

The contents are in the Mexican, Heatsion, One Step and Tango.

THE VICTORIES OF AMERICA AND RUSSIA were not unexpected. Travers, however, had a hard opponent in Palmer, the Irish champion, but as Travers was playing the best golf of all the Americans entered, his defeat came as a distinct shock, especially as he led for fully two-thirds of his match. Travers was the American picked.

REPULSE PUTS SENSATION AT SALTLIO OF TRIAL

By JOHN W. ROBERTS.
Special Correspondent of the American.
PAREDON, State of Coahuila, May 18.—The advance of General Francisco Villa's Constitutional army against Saltillo has been temporarily checked by the Federal artillery. The rebel force which was moving to invest the northern side of Saltillo has encountered a heavy Federal force supported by heavy guns near Ramos Arizpe.

The Federals poured in a heavy fire against the Constitutionalists, the latter retreating to wait for heavier artillery.

Throughout the night there was intermittent firing on all sides of the besieged city and the rebel positions were moved closer to the outer works of the defenders.

General Villa made a personal tour of the rebel outposts, after which he said he was satisfied that this week would see the Constitutional flag floating over the capital of Coahuila.

Constitutionalists swear over the radio country about Saltillo for many miles on all sides of the city. An especially vigilant watch is being kept on the southern side of Saltillo.

MOVIE AGAINST FLORA.
Before daylight the entire rebel camp was rattle for a renewal of the long range fighting. A heavy detachment of cavalry moved against Flora, where a body of Federalists had posted themselves with their cannon.

Scouts reported to headquarters that some difficulty had been encountered by the troops sent against Saltillo because of the inclement condition of the country. The rebels were compelled to move cautiously to avoid ambushes, and it was a difficult job to drag the big guns over the steep roads.

The removal of the wounded who fell at Flora to the hospital in the rear was the first prima evidence of severe fighting at Saltillo.

The wounded men could give no idea of the number of soldiers who were killed and wounded, but believed the number was heavy. They said that the fighting did not stop until long after dark. Long after sunset the darkness was split by rifle fire and the bombardment of the rebel guns. In account of the heavy service force of the Constitutionalists, it was expected that the Federalists would retreat during the night into Saltillo.

A report was current that Villa might postpone the ground assault upon the city proper until some ammunition could be brought from Tampico.

CARLEIGH'S A CRUELTY OF WAR IN BALKANS

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Balkan Committee of Inquiry of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, in a report just issued, publishes an amazing list of atrocities during and following the war of 1912 and 1913.

In a review of acts committed by the Greeks against the Macedonians, the committee had at its disposal documents of doubtful veracity which reported frightful massacres and a systematic extermination of Macedonians which is found typical of the Greek murder practices.

One band, under a certain bandchief, a notorious guerrilla chief, was said to have burned 143 Turkish houses in one day, shut up the men in houses and burned them alive or shot them as they attempted to escape. A volunteer of the Macedonian legion told of seeing the body of a woman hanging from a tree and another with a young baby on the ground with their eyes closed and mouths open.

Evidence gathered regarding the village of Kalkanli and the committee had, although the village submitted from the first, it was not and burned; the Greek troops gave themselves up openly to a debauch of wine and women, and the peasants were killed wantonly and without provocation.

A number of Europeans witnessed the brutal conduct of a detachment of Greek soldiers under the command of Pitsen, who were ordered to the convent of Pitsen and were turned by the sisters. Father Alkali reported this fact to the Greek command, whereupon a detachment was sent in search for a Bulgarian chief who was not there. In the convent, the Greek soldiers, who were Catholic priests, were severely flogged by the Greek soldiers.

Five Bulgarian women and a young girl were tortured and a large number of innocents were carried off to prison without reason.

"If such things could be done to Europeans in a building under the protection of the French flag," continues the report, "it is not difficult to believe that Bulgarians could have been treated in a similar manner."

A series of twenty-five letters written by Greek soldiers, containing details of the treatment of the Bulgarians, were studied by the committee. The Greek soldiers were Turkish army killed, burned and dispersed a population of 15,000 in the district.

DARING GOWNS DISPLAYED AT RACES IN PARIS

PARIS, May 18.—Those who raised to enter last year against what was then condemned as immodest dress would have been horrified by the spectacle of Longchamps when the most brilliant fashion fair seen on a Paris race track in many years was brought together for the French spectators who are France's guests.

The gathering held all recent records, even for a Grand Prix meeting, in matter of smartness. Rich hued and plain-colored but the latter surpassed all other features of the season's fashions.

With these two materials, a very little satin goes to make a gown which looks but shines than anything that modern women have ever worn outdoors.

A typical dress of this description had a bodice made of unlined tulle, with the skirt, generally black, against the tulle. The only exception to this rule was a very low cut black and white dress, which was entirely black down to the waist, leaving plainly visible beneath the transparent tulle.

WON'T PROTEST NAMING SCHOOL FOR HAGGERTY

Mayor Timothy W. Wood of Cambridge today denounced a report that "protests have been coming in" against naming the school after Haggerty. Those who opposed it were Mrs. A. Whitman and John F. Gaddy, and both explained today that they did not estimate the movement, only felt it was inappropriate.

"There has been not a single protest against this naming the school," the school committee voted three to two in favor of naming the school for Haggerty. Those who opposed it were Mrs. A. Whitman and John F. Gaddy, and both explained today that they did not estimate the movement, only felt it was inappropriate.

"I have heard in private, not have made any. The committee's action in so naming the school has simply appeared to me inappropriate. Haggerty lived in East Cambridge. The school is way up in Mount Auburn. I think it would be better to have the memorial nearer his home. The Mount Auburn school, which would be named after former Representative of Roxbury Council, who gave fifty years of service to the city."

Mr. Gaddy took the same ground. He is from West Cambridge. He said: "I feel it would be better to erect a small memorial to Captain Fitch, who served in the Haggerty house. School children might give a pretty name to this monument. The school in Mount Auburn would be opened for two years' time. We ought to honor Haggerty before that, and we ought to do so near his home to do it."

REPORT SCORE OF MURDERS, MOSTLY OF AMERICANS, ON THE WEST COAST

U. S. SHIP SEIZED BY REBELS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—How Americans were massacred, the United States brig Geneva captured, and Consul Clement S. Edwards imprisoned by hostile Mexicans on the west coast was related today by the 120 refugees brought here on the British steamer Cetina, which arrived from Manzanillo.

Lieutenant Minister, commander of the Cetina, got out of Manzanillo as the Mexicans were preparing to burn his vessel at the dock and dynamite the wharves.

As the Cetina got away from the dock, maneuvering skilfully out of what is reported to have been an attempt to hem it in by four Mexican destroyers, a rifle fire was directed against it. Many of the bullets struck the steamer.

More than a score of murders, mostly of Americans, were reported by the Cetina's passengers. They told of the killing at the El Estero mine of C. B. Hoadley of New Haven, Conn., and of G. P. Williams, an Englishman, previously reported.

Other names of men believed to have been killed at Los Pinos, between San Blas and Manzanillo, are Hugh B. Davidson, H. J. James, Charles A. Kelso and men named Nelson, McAllister and Hibel.

Lieutenant Minister said that the Mexican transport Korrigon with an armed crew steamed out of Manzanillo and approached the Geneva. Captain Ferguson located the American vessel. The Mexican commander inquired if Ferguson told him what was on and said he had orders to seize the Geneva as a prize of war and all Americans aboard as prisoners of war. There was no escape and the American vessel was taken to Manzanillo.

The Geneva's people were ready to escape in the small boats when the U. S. and British vessels arrived. The people of the Geneva got into the small boats and moved to the Cetina. The boats were fired on from the shore of the Mexican steamer Pinar, but no one was hit.

When the refugees got aboard the Cetina, they were taken to the hospital. Many were exploded at the sight of the broadway and the attempt was made to burn the Cetina by the Mexican steamer Herriera, a motor ship.

TWO WITH ONE BULLET! Robert Emmet Lee, an eighteen-year-old New York boy, and George Putnam Kinsman of No. 380 K street, South Boston, each lost a leg at Vera Cruz. The same bullet pierced Kinsman's thigh and Lee's knee. This is Lee, as he landed from the hospital ship Solace.

COFFEE FINDS ITS PLACE

The Literary Digest, of March 28, 1914, quoting the New York World, says:

"Cocain and its allied intoxicants appear to be about the cheapest things in the market. They are seemingly cheaper than whiskey, cheaper than beer, cheaper in proportion to effects than tea or coffee."

The best teaching of today is distinctly against the use of coffee, tea and other drugs, and drug-bearing beverages—especially among the young. It is well established that headache, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, and other aches and pains are commonly caused by coffee drinking.

People are becoming alive to this fact and thousands have quit coffee and now use

A rush was made for all available telescopes. Orderlies hastened with the news to Admiral Howard and Captain McCall.

PRESIDENT PLANS TO PACIFY ALL MEXICO

By WILLIAM N. TAFT.

Staff Correspondent of the AMERICAN at the White House.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Taft, who is expected to leave for Mexico on the 20th, has been busy today with the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ont. Received their final instructions today preparatory to the departure from the capital.

With General Huerta's delegates now in New York and the South American mediators on the way to Mexico, the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, mediation in the Mexican troubles was a step nearer reality today.

The Niagara Falls conference, which opened Wednesday, took on significance when it was intimated by persons close to the President that he believed that the present negotiations can settle Mexico's troubles for all time by bringing the Zapata, Carranza and Huerta factions into agreement following the ousting of Huerta.

TAPT RAPS WILSON AND BRYAN AT REBELS AS CAUSE OF WAR CRISIS

NEW YORK, May 18.—Former President Taft, as a substitute speaker for Secretary Bryan, at the New Synagogue, criticized the Wilson-Bryan administration for aiding Carranza, the rebel general, and thus bringing on near to intervention and war in Mexico.

While the former President expressed little hope that the pending mediation conference would accomplish its immediate purpose, he declared that the offer of mediation, and our own policy of keeping a step toward the future settlement of

LAND PLAN LAMED

Reform of the present land holding system, which the President believes responsible for the war in Mexico, is said to be one of the chief duties of the President, and it is understood in official circles here that recognition of the Constitutionalists, should be withheld until such reform is established by the new government.

The President, it has been known, is planning the hope to the mediation with the idea that the United States can force peace by keeping the army in Vera Cruz within striking distance of Mexico.

Meanwhile, the army and navy, chafing under the State Department's avoidance of anything which might look like "aggression," is straining at the leash and they are likely to continue so throughout the mediation.

HOPE VILLA SUCCEEDS

The administration is hoping that Francisco Villa will win through to Mexico City and gather the people about him with strength enough to ensure the stability of the constitutional government.

It is believed that Villa could wait at Vera Cruz while Huerta departs the dictator and set up a new regime. This regime would have to ensure the land and other reforms demanded by this government and guarantee the payment of the claims of the United States.

see smoke arising from Montecilla, nor had anybody seen the flash of a gun in the din.

We were puzzled, but nobody suspected the explanation. Meanwhile, unseen by us, but watched by the Mexican people, the city, one of the black dots in the blue sky disappeared. A hole tore into ruins and a wounded mother wailing by the roadside of her child, while nearby lay the dead father of the family and two other men. In the street outside there crawled away eight horribly torn and bleeding women.

INTERNATIONAL DIFFICULTIES IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE

"It is my judgment," he said, "that if, in our course toward Mexico during the past year, we had not exerted such direct influence as we have, to aid one of the contending parties, we should not now be so near general intervention and war."

He declared that the only way to avoid the subjugation of Mexico should the present complications produce war.

The best expert estimate of the force required by us to scotch the necessary towns, suppress guerrilla warfare and tranquillize the country is 20,000 men, and it is said that this would take two or three years and involve an expenditure of $1,000,000 a day.

"The wisest course for us to pursue if the duty to before us of suppressing anarchy in Mexico, would be to blockade all the Mexican ports, be-

Now Is the Time to Create Desire for Suburban Life

Get Ready for Big Business

This is the psychological moment. The iron is hot. Strike! To delay suburban real estate activities means loss—actual loss in dollars and cents. Opportunities exist now that must be taken advantage of.

Boston American readers are in the proper frame of mind. Intelligent advertising of suburban property will fall on fertile soil—will find lodgment in minds already inclined toward residence where there's sunshine and pure air—where awakened nature is beautifying landscapes with broad vistas of brilliant green—where the fragrance of growing verdure makes it delightful just to be alive.

While the spell is on—while everybody is generously recipient to the suggestion—tell what you have to offer in the way of suburban homes for those who want to buy and those who want to rent.

The American goes to thousands upon thousands of families where your advertising will be eagerly read—where your message tendering release from crowded districts will be joyously received.

But you mustn't delay that message. Its preparation right now means added profits. When it is ready, telephone the

HARVARD CREW NOT UP FOR CORNELL RACE

By E. W. SOUDY.

Member Harvard varsity crew, after a series of illness in which three regulars were forced to give up rowing, has finally got together and is now rounding into form for the Cornell race.

With the return of Captain Reynolds and Taylor Gardner to the first boat last Thursday, the crew showed the only absentee news, having gone to New London to recuperate from a new lease of life. Charlie Schell, in his recent illness and will be back in his old place today.

This will give Coach Wray seven days in which to get his varsity crew together in order to be in condition for the Cornell race. What he will be able to do will be decided in a great measure upon the men themselves. With the exception of Schell every man in the squad is in the very best of condition, so that no more interruption need be feared before the Cornell race.

EARLY WORK NOT ENCOURAGING. The workouts of the first part of last week were very encouraging, as there were three new men in the boat—J. W. Middendorf from the second crew, and Herrick and Wilkinson from the coxswain's four-oared crew—nor could any improvement be expected since the second varsity crew was preparing for the Henley races and Coach Wray did not care to change his men from that boat, knowing that to do so would nullify his efforts in the race.

Nevertheless the men went down to the water and worked out their faults, trying to correct them as much as possible before the race. As it is the men are still fairly fresh with their catch, and this, in fact, has been the chief fault throughout the season.

In the case of the finish it is altogether different, for at times it looks as if the oarsmen had mastered the stroke at other times as if they had not.

Toward the end of the week the side-work showed a little improvement, but there was still that tendency to run down on the stretch and hunch at the catch, but not so noticeable.

RECORDS DOING WELL. Because of the competition for places in the varsity boat, no one who is rowing in the first eight at present is absolutely sure of his seat.

The "seconds" have been rowing so well of late that they were easily the superior of the varsity men last week before they left for Philadelphia. They have very good catch and their finish is even better than that of the varsity men.

Their side-work is not so good, though, instead of running down the varsity men do, some of them are inclined to about the same way just as they are about to catch the water.

One thing in which the second crew men are decidedly superior to the first is in the way they row. The first men are in the water; it is a trait to see a first crewer who has been rowing and seemingly without any effort on their part.

The men who will sit in the first boat this afternoon will be all probably be the ones who will row against Cornell. As this race is only seven days off, there will be much work in store for the varsity and freshmen alike.

FRESHMEN DEVELOP SLOWLY. The freshmen crew has been developing rather slowly, in fact slower than former freshmen crews. Although the men are not yet rowing, they have had a few experiences against the Cornell freshmen when they meet next week.

Their watermanship is above the average, they have a fairly good catch and a strong finish. In all of their workouts they have always kept the stroke about 28 and, considering that the race will be rowed at a stroke between 24 and 26, it is very good practice and should tune the men up for the race.

The second varsity, upon its return from Philadelphia, will be kept together for the present week in order to help develop the varsity after which it will be divided into two four-oared crews.

The order of the varsity and freshmen crews are:

Varsity—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

First—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

Second—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

Third—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

Fourth—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

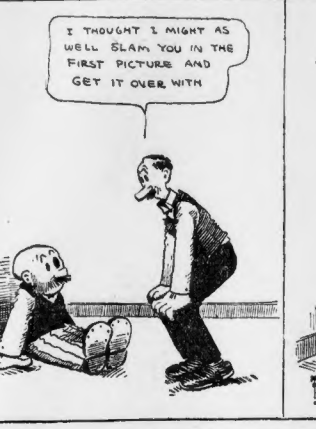

Fifth—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

Sixth—Herrick, Taylor, Gardner, Reynolds, Schell, Middendorf, Wilkinson, and Wilkinson.

MITCHELL'S SIDELIGHTS ON SPORTS

RENN, OAKES, who jumped to the Pittsburgh Post from the St. Louis National, has received word from the club that he is to be the regular manager of the team. Mr. Oakes has been permanently named.

THEY have forgotten all about Joe Tinker in Cincinnati. Charlie Herring has won the favor of the city by his clever handling of the players that compose the roster of the Reds.

Hardly anyone expected that Herring would prove a success as a manager, but he seems to have made good thus far even if the Reds are not leading the league. And if he continues to make good, the feat will continue to be surprising.

WILLIAM HART, the new umpire in the National League, has been identified with baseball for more than thirty years. Until recently he was still able to pitch and in his day he was one of the best pitchers in the league. When the Red Sox used to travel, he was always with them, a member of the Little Rock team.

This is not Hart's first experience as an umpire. He has been umpiring for a season and a half in the old Western League, and he has been umpiring for a season and a half in the old Western League, and he has been umpiring for a season and a half in the old Western League.

THE Indianapolis Federal League club has decided to abolish major league prices on home grounds. The promoters, however, have announced that in future the admission practically the entire grand stand will be cut to fifty cents.

Reds Batten by Whites. NEW YORK, May 18.—The Whites, now regarded as America's representative international polo team, beat the Reds by 18 to 1 goals on the polo field of John B. Phelps, near Westbury.

IS his talk with the baseball frontiers in the West, Salinger appears anxious that his team will not get going in the right way. He said in Cincinnati:

"I think our bad showing has been pretty much due to the mistakes that we have made. We have not been working as hard as we should, and we have not been playing as well as we should. We have not been playing as well as we should, and we have not been playing as well as we should."

RAY Caldwell's string of consecutive victories was unbroken up to Friday, when the Tigers defeated him. A previous defeat of the Yankees by the Tigers goes to Keating. As the Detroit runs were made by men who reached first base on Keating's runs, the Detroit runs were made by men who reached first base on Keating's runs.

JOHNSON MEETS FLYNN AT THE AREA

PARIA May 18.—Longchamps was favored by brilliant sunshine at the first big spring meeting of the season, which was attended by great throngs of fashionable people, attracted by the presence of the King and Queen of Denmark and President and Mrs. Poincaré. The sports were excellent, the horses being of exceptionally high standard.

THE Atlas A. A. has not staged a fine racing since April 21 and consequently a disappointed crowd is expected to turn out in order to witness tomorrow night's features.

JOHNSON has been made a slight favorite over Flynn. The negro is a powerful fellow, being six feet tall, while he weighs 220 pounds and is in condition. He has fought Sam McLean, Tom Langford, Joe Johnston and Jack Johnson.

THE Tennessee giant held the heavyweight champion to a draw in Paris last winter. The titleholder believed that he would dispose of his opponent without a great deal of trouble but received a surprise as the Southern heavyweight kept fighting at a lively clip throughout the contest.

FLYNN rating in the State world will be determined by what kind of a showing he makes against Johnson. If he wins, he will be in no contest a world beater. If he loses, he will be knocked out of the ring after the first round.

GIRLS' GAMES ADOPTED New Stunts for Bike Rider

Hop-scotch, skipping rope and swimming are games which have been adopted as training stunts by Leon Dedier, the French motor pace champion, who makes his American debut at the Beach Oval this week. Dedier arrived here yesterday. He noticed several of the little stunts at the Beach enjoying themselves with the above games and he declared after watching them for several minutes that it was just the exercise to put a bike rider in fine condition for a long, hard grind, such as following the motor.
